Compensation Complaints Will Be Investigated

Wage Compensation Board Under Criticism

Mine Workers Unions Call for Commission of Enquiry and Resignation of Board

Protests have been made through the Lethbridge Herald by a letter from Coleman union against the Compensation Board of the province.

A resolution was also sent from Cadomin union to the Herald, asking for the resignation of board members and doctors and calling on the government for a commission of enquiry.

Local enquiries reveal there is grave dissatisfaction on the treatment of various cases, and instances are given of men having to wait in Calgary to appear before the board without provision being made for their accommodation whilst awaiting examination.

An Edmonton despatch stated on Friday last that the provincial government had received no official intimation of the resolutions, but Mr. Hoadley, minister of health, stated he would leave it to Premier Brownlee to make answer as to the government's attitude.

Premier Brownlee Issues Statement from Edmonton

Complaints against the administration of the Workmen's Compensation scheme will be considered by the standing committee already in existence, representing the various groups of employers, employees and members of the legislature. This is the answer given Monday by the premier to resolutions sent to the government by miners' organizations in Cadomin and Crow's Nest districts—Lethbridge Herald.

Red Cross Notes

Acknowledgment is made of gifts of clothing and cash. One gentleman kindly donated some woolen underwear, another donated cash, and several others gave clothing which will prove useful to needy families. The young people's society donated some clothing.

Persons having useful articles will help by notifying Miss Ynill at Cameron school or Mrs. C. F. Dunlop, secretary of the local branch of the Red Cross Society.

Curling Club Membership Fee Reduced This Year

At a recent meeting of the club executive, it was decided that if sixteen rinks can be formed, the fee will be $6.00, but more, if less than this number is secured.

A meeting of the club will be held in the council chamber on Thurs., Nov. 26 at 7:30 p.m., at which all members and intending curlers are urged to be present.

Canadian Engineer Inaugurates Radio System in New Waldorf Hotel

Paul E. Demers of the Radio Laboratory staff of the Northern Electric Company in Montreal, and well known in radio broadcasting circles throughout Canada was selected to inaugurate the centrally operated radio receiving system specially developed in the Bell Telephone laboratories, for the New Waldorf-Astoria Hotel which was opened in New York this month. Mr. Demers is here seen receiving the first "speaker" for use in his suite.

Make the Town Attractive

The majority of householders take pride in the appearance of their homes and surroundings. There are others who have a lack of common decency in disposition of their garbage. Some dump more than ashes on public roads; tin cans and bottles are thrown out. The premises of slovenly people look more like dump grounds than residences.

The course of Nez Porree creek within the town has been made a dump on certain places. This is an offence not only against good sense but against the law. If the bylaw hasn't authority to compel the proper disposal of garbage, it should be brought up-to-date, so that these eyesores can be cleaned up and offenders reprimanded. These mountain towns can be made very attractive by householders beautifying their surroundings.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Clarke recently moved to Macleod for the winter. During the summer Mr. Clarke is assistant forest ranger.

IN MEMORIAM

Communists Sentenced at Drumheller

John O'Sullivan denied the flag and everything opposed to Communism when he addressed miners' and unemployed National Union in the Pass town, and now are in the "house" mediating on life in general and its ups and downs. Another few of less significance are kept quiet. The men charged with meeting men to riot at Estevan will be tried at the Supreme court sitting in March at Estevan. Opinion is the quicker the union is re-organized with sane officials at its head and giving reasonable leadership to the local unions, the better it will be for all.

First Westley, then local officials, including Hayson and Gillespie, and finally Major Hyslop replaced by Stokols as secretary; this is the record of Communist intrigue among Alberta miners, with Coleman showing the least resistance. With Sloan and other men in office, it helps to accentuate the condition of the union which has been internally ripped from stem to gudgeon, whilst still retaining the name of the M.W.U. of C. by the Communist element which run it into the ground.

Do Not Blame the Public

You must use publicity—advertising—in your business. The public do not remember you for very long. They remember those who advertise, and buy accordingly. Do not blame business or the people—blame yourself if you do not invite people and show by your enterprise that you welcome their business.

The monotonous voices of some radio announcers give one a pain all over, as they read their announcements. The blunk that is broadcast does much to discredit radio advertising. "Twice a day," "kind to your throat," etc.—hah—it makes you sick. One chap in Vancouver took his radio set to the basement and played rat a tat on it with the axe and threw the wreckage into the furnace.

Hockey Clubs Now Organizing Line-Up

Juniors Given $200 by Miners Union to Help Outfit for Season's Play

Indications are that Coleman will have a season of keen competitive hockey. Angelo Gentile has great hopes of his junior team, while the seniors expect to be strengthened over last year's team.

The league schedule is not yet arranged. Bill Wright is already prophesying that the juniors will defeat the seniors.

At the recent meeting of the hockey association held in Blairmore, Coleman junior team was represented by J. Clarke, A. Gentile and W. Bell.

W. Bell is president of the junior hockey team, and it Bell, as reported in last week's issue.

'Fresh from the gardens'

A Tick At A Time.

Somewhere has told a fanciful story of a salesman who was engaged in an attempt to sell a grandfather clock, telling the prospective purchaser that it would run for one hundred years and be just as good at the end of the period as at the beginning. The clock overbearing this remark began figuring out how many times it would have to tick in the 100 years, and emitted a deep groan, and began to complain "I can't stand it; I can't stand it," whereupon a little cheap alarm clock on an adjoining shelf spoke up: "Cheer up; you don't have to do it all at once. Remember it is just a 'tick at a time, a tick at a time.'"

In these present days as many of us look ahead and see and contemplate the many difficulties to be overcome and the great problems to be solved we are apt to emulate the grandfather clock in its despair and exclaim: "We can't stand it; we can't do it." Looking at the sum total of the things to be faced and to be done, we become discouraged, forgetting that, after all, we are called upon to do only one thing at a time, and that that one thing is not beyond our ability or strength.

Furthermore, in the doing of that one thing immediately confronting us, we develop the ability and build up the strength which enables us to successfully tackle the next thing, and thus we go on from strength to strength, achievement following achievement, whereas nothing but weakness and failure would result from idle contemplation of the many tasks ahead, leading to discouragement which prevented even a start being made.

If at the inception of the project to build the Canadian Pacific Railway, financiers and contractors looking from Montreal towards the Pacific Ocean began to count the number of miles of track that were necessary and the millions of ties to be laid, not to mention the streams to be bridged, the tunnels to be bored, and the mountains to be climbed, they too, might well have exclaimed: "We can't do it; it is too much." But they had the sense to realize that it was a case of laying down one tie at a time, spiking one rail at a time, and that every tie laid and every rail spiked helped to lay the next tie and spike the next rail. And so the job was done in record time, and the whole history of Canada and the Empire changed for the better.

And so it is with the individual life. Life goes on a "tick at a time." As babies we learn to walk a step at a time, thus preparing for the many millions of steps we will take throughout the years to come. We learn the alphabet a letter at a time in preparation for the multitude of words we later will require to use, and we laboriously recite that "one times one makes two, and two times two makes four," and thus we master the whole world of arithmetic, and in so doing find that nothing is impossible.

And in the philosophy of life it is also well to remember that success and achievement is not confined solely to things material. Too often we regard material reverses as the "fin" things of life, forgetting that health, contentment and happiness are the really vital things that matter. And these essential attributes of life are achieved just as material things are gained by, as the little clock said, "a tick at a time."

Grain Samples For Europe

Samples From All Parts Of The West Sent To European Traders

Samples of this year's western Canada grain crop, on which the prices offered by British and European traders will partly be based, have reached Montreal from Winnipeg and will be shipped immediately to most of the British and continental grain exchanges.

The samples were prepared at the office of the chief grain inspector at Winnipeg and are contained in strong close woven bags.

These samples were shipped by the Board Grain Commissioners and are billed to the grain exchanges and grain trade associations in Germany, Holland, Italy, Belgium, France, England, Ireland and Scotland.

The samples, which are made up annually by the western grain standards committee in Winnipeg, contain grain from practically every district in the prairie west and give a fair indication of the quality of wheat which European consumers might expect in the filling of large orders. Specimens of each grade are included, and before shipment is authorized each sample is analyzed and approved by Dr. F. J. Birchard, chief chemist of the Board of Grain Commissioners' Research Laboratory.

Delayed Publication

Nellie McClung's new book, "Flowers For the Living," was delayed a little in appearance because of a typographical error, which, considering the writers' well-known total abstinence views, looked like someone's idea of a lark. "Between the tall tapers," wrote Mrs. McClung in the first paragraph of the book. "Between the tall tapers," said the censor that had to hastily be recalled.

Has Served Forty-Five Years

Inspector Canning Of Royal Canadian Mounted Retires On Pension

With a record of 45 years service in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the R.N.W.M.P., Inspector W. A. Canning, following a six months leave of absence, will be retired on a pension at the end of that time, it was learned at the Regina headquarters.

Inspector Canning, tendered his resignation in October. He came from Toronto as a boy and joined the then Royal North West Mounted Police in 1885. He was promoted through the non-commissioned ranks until he has reached his present rank which he has held for a number of years. He has been district paymaster and quartermaster. He was also in charge of the weather bureau at Regina.

Inspector Canning has the distinction of being the only man in the service for such a long period. Mrs. Canning is also a pioneer, coming to the west from England 49 years ago. Five sons served in the world war. Three of them were wounded and one was a prisoner of war for three years.

"THESE HARD TIMES"

"The hard times and scarcity of money makes it more important than ever to economize. One way I save on clothes is by renewing the color of faded or out-of-style dresses, coats, stockings, and underwear." For dyeing, or tinting, I always use Diamond Dyes. They are the most economical ones by far because they never fail to produce results that you can't get any other way. They are better than new when dyed with Diamond Dyes. They never spot, they don't run, they don't fade, and evenly, when in the hands of even a ten year old child. Another thing Diamond Dyes do is to make life out of cloth or leave it limp as some dyes do. They deserve to be called 'the world's finest dyes'."

Another Growing Industry

Exports Of Canadian Salmon Have More Than Doubled

Canada is replacing the United States in the British market for canned salmon and for the first nine months of the present calendar year, the Dominion more than doubled its exports over the corresponding period a year ago.

Up to the end of September, according to the current issue of the Commercial Intelligence Journal, the United Kingdom imported from Canada 102,000 cwt. of canned salmon, while imports from the United States totalled 96,000 cwt. During the same period last year Canada's share was only 47,000 cwt., while that of the United States was considerably over 100,000 cwt.

Britain imported 292,000 cwt. of canned salmon during 1932.

Western Wheat Crop

Yield Of 24,970,800 Bushels Estimated For Season Of 1931

A yield of 24,970,800 bushels is the estimated wheat crop of the three western provinces, according to reports compiled by the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association in its annual forecast.

The acreage on which the estimate is based is that compiled by the association early in the season, taking into consideration threshing returns. The figures for wheat are 16,601,050 net acreage, compared with 23,178,000 acres used in the Dominion Government report, which, on September 9, estimated a crop of 24,400,000 bushels.

Nearly 70 per cent. of Japan farmers cultivate less than two and one-half acres of land per family.

AS SHE LOST FAT SHE LOST PAIN

Like many others, this woman found that excess fat did not come alone. She did not know that both troubles were due to a common cause—but she found they had gone away before the common remedy.

"I have been a martyr to sciatica and rheumatism for years. I took Kruschen for a month, when people began telling me how well I fared. I had lost fat and was no good to me, and now, after three months of Kruschen, I only go 168 lbs. instead of 185 lbs. I'm not going to say my pains have all gone, but I do say I'm wonderfully well, and hope to move yet. I bless the day I started Kruschen."—Mrs. F. L. P.

The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to throw off each the waste and poisons that cumber the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely. The pains of sciatica and rheumatism cease. You feel wonderfully healthy and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

British Industries Fair 1932

To Be Held In London and Birmingham, England, 22nd February To 5th March

Already the largest national trade exhibition in the world, the British Industries Fair, or the "B.I.F.," as it is becoming known in every language, is to be in 1932 still bigger and more representative of British industry than ever before.

This unique display of the manufactures of the home country and of the produce of the Empire countries will open in London and Birmingham on February 22, a date which is chosen because it is convenient for the principal buying season in a majority of the industries represented, and in order to attract the trade buyers from other continents who are in the habit of paying their annual business visit to Europe at that time of year.

In London, the principal development will be a new section filling a large part of the White City, Shepherd's Bush, for the first combined display of the great textile industries of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Last February for the first time there was a new section at the White City for the products of the cotton textile industry, while the British Artificial Silk Exhibition became a main feature and purposes part of the Fair by being held during the first week of the Fair at the Royal Albert Hall. These two exhibitions, the Cotton section organized by the Lancashire Cotton Corporation, and the Artificial Silk Show were such a success that meetings were called of representatives of these and other textile industries and it was unanimously decided to make a joint display in 1932.

The light industries other than textiles, will continue to be housed at Olympia where also the Empire Marketing Board will have its display of the products of the British Dominions and Colonies.

The heavier industries, once again, will have their display in the mammoth permanent Fair Buildings at Castle Bromwich, Birmingham, and there no less than in London, important developments are promised.

One of the most important developments of the fair is the further extensions of the buildings, is a new section for cycles and motor cycles, their component parts, tires and other rubber equipment, and accessories of every kind. This section, which will be the first representative display in the Fair of the British cycle and motor cycle industry, is being organized by the Fair Board of Management in Birmingham in co-operation with the British Cycle and Motor Cycle Manufacturers' and Traders' Union who will have an information bureau in the section.

Another new section at Castle Bromwich will be for quarrying and roadmaking plant, and in the organization of this, the Fair will have the co-operation of the Institute of Quarrying which has in recent years organized an exhibition of this kind.

In many minor ways the overseas buyers will find the B.I.F. of 1932 more convenient and attractive than the previous years, and it is hoped for the first time to make arrangements for civic and other forms of hospitality which are likely to appeal to the business man from abroad whether from a British or a foreign country.

Admission during business hours by invitation only. Invitations can be obtained from The Office of H. M. Trade Commissioner, 703, Royal Bank Building, Winnipeg.

Empire Broadcasting Plan

Will Erect Station In England To Broadcast Messages To Whole Empire

Without further delay, the British Broadcasting Corporation will begin plans for the erection of a short-wave broadcasting station at Davenport to which the whole Empire may listen, it was announced recently.

Plans for the station were discussed at the last Imperial Conference but difficulties of financing the project on a permanent basis postponed the development. Now, however, need from an imperial point of view, coupled with a strong desire expressed throughout the Empire, especially from the crown colonies, determined the corporation to proceed without further delay.

The object will be to secure as many listeners as possible throughout the Empire at a convenient time. Details of the time arrangements will depend on experiments. Several wave lengths will be used in order to provide the best reception under varying conditions.

Scheme May Work

British Have Idea To Keep Indian Tribesmen Quiet

Non-violent methods to keep the tribesmen of North-western India quiet are to be used soon by the British. Instead of bombs, an aeroplane is to be fitted with a powerful loudspeaker, from which ordinary tones will emerge immensely magnified. The expectation is that the natives will think it is the voice of their god bidding them not to fight, might kill white man, who could not help killing some of them.

Bonus For Large Families

Each of the 10 families in Italy with the largest number of children will be given a five-room bungalow by the government of Rome, beginning on Christmas, 1932. It was announced recently. Similar prizes will be given each for five years. A proviso that the houses cannot be sold, leased or mortgaged within 30 years will be attached however.

The Tourist's Dollar

How the tourist spends a dollar has been analyzed as follows by the U.S. Department of Commerce: transportation 10 per cent.; garage and filling station, 12 per cent.; restaurant, 20 per cent.; hotel or camp, 17 per cent.; retailer, 25 per cent.; theatre and amusements, 10 per cent.; confectionery, 6 per cent.

An Oil That Is Famous—Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous compound. From here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far ahead enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Canada And U. S. Initiate Discussions On St. Lawrence Route

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada and the United States have initiated treaty discussions on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway project. An official statement issued Sunday night by the Canadian Department of External Affairs, and released simultaneously in Washington by the United States Secretary of State Department, reads:

"An exchange of views took place at Washington, November 14, between the Hon. C. D. Herdridge, Canadian Minister to the United States, and the Hon. H. L. Stimson, United States Secretary of State, with respect to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway project. This conference marks the initiation of the discussions forecast in the announcement of the two governments on October 8 last.

"Following the conference at the state department, it was announced that the discussions had been of a broad and general nature, confined to an exchange of views upon the more important phases of the problem facing the two governments. The discussion dealt with the international section of the waterway; the development of the purely Canadian National section of the St. Lawrence was regarded as a matter of domestic concern for Canada. Consideration, however, was given to the work done or projected by both countries in their respective national sections which would serve as essential links in the development of a waterway from the head of the Lakes to tide water.

"Arrangements were made for the immediate re-convening of the joint engineering board with a view to ensuring agreement upon the general form of development to be undertaken in the international section of the St. Lawrence River, as to which some divergence of views existed in the 1926 report of the board.

"An exchange of views took place as to the allocation of work and division of costs in the work to be done in the international section. It was stated by the representatives of both countries that they proposed to keep in close touch with respect to provincial and state authorities in the consideration of the power features of the development.

Lethbridge, Alberta.—Mrs. O. C. Edwards, prominent in the National Council of Women, died November 10, of pneumonia at her home in Macleod, Alberta.

Mrs. Edwards was one of the five distinguished Alberta women who carried the appeal to the Privy Council which gave women the right to sit in the Canadian Senate.

She was a past vice-president of the National Council of Women, and convener of the legislative committee of the National Council. Mrs. Edwards was a recognized authority on laws for women and children.

Alberta This Year Greatest Wheat Producer In The Dominion

Ottawa, Ont.—Alberta replaced Saskatchewan as the greatest wheat producing province of the Dominion this year, with a total estimated yield of 135,000,000 bushels, the report of the bureau of statistics showed Thursday, November 12.

In 1930, the Alberta wheat yield was 132,900,000 bushels. During this year has an estimated yield of 117,000,000 bushels, as compared with 106,322,000 of a year ago. Manitoba shows a drop from 45,278,000 bushels to an even 27,000,000 this year.

Drouth took its toll in both Saskatchewan and Manitoba during the crop season. The estimate per acre for Alberta this year is 16.9 bushels as against Saskatchewan 7.9, and Manitoba 10.5.

British Parliament Opened

Facing Scene Of Splendor King

Reads Speech From Throne
London, Eng.—In the great Chamber of the House of Lords, glowing with scarlet, gold and precious stones, the King officially opened Parliament on November 10.

The day began with showers of rain, but along the whole route from Buckingham Palace to Westminster great crowds lined the road cheering as His Majesty passed by. And, as the King, accompanied by the Queen, entered the Chamber of the House of Lords they faced a scene of splendor. Uniformed and armed soldiers were grouped on the right and the centre of the floor was so packed with peers that two former viceroys of India, Lord Irwin and Lord Reading, only with difficulty found seats. Along either side of the chamber the wives of the peers sat wearing royal ransoms in diamonds and other costly jewels.

There was a brief pause while the Gentleman of the Black Rod summoned the faithful members of the House of Commons to the Bar of the House of Lords. Then, in a clear voice, His Majesty read the Speech from the Throne. It contained a reference to receipt from the Canadian Government of an invitation to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa, an invitation "which has been welcomed by my ministers and will be considered in a most sympathetic spirit and with earnest desire to come to some mutually advantageous arrangement with the governments of my Dominion."

Christian Japs Urge Peace

Leaders Of Christian Movement In Japan Would Use Peaceful Means To End Trouble

Toronto, Ont.—Leaders of the Christian movement in Japan have been in touch with the Japanese foreign office at Tokyo, in an effort to forestall further troubles with China in Manchuria, according to information received at the foreign mission offices of the United Church of Canada. This was conveyed in a bulletin from the National Christian Council of Japan.

Executive committee of the National Christian Council of Japan appointed Dr. Y. Chiba and Hon. D. Tagawa to confer with the Minister of Foreign Affairs and "urge in behalf of the Christian council, that any peaceful means be utilized and that a just solution be made the goal in the negotiations between the two nations."

Alberta Cattle Exports

Calgary, Alberta.—With approximately 6,000 head shipped from Alberta since the opening of the season in the spring, export of cattle to the Old Country has benefited Alberta ranchers to a great extent, according to J. J. Bowen, M.P., for Calgary. In September, 1,000 head were shipped, while total export from the Dominion was about 22,000 head.

Canadian Wins Cup

New York, N.Y.—Canada took one challenge cup from the National Horse Show in the fourth day of the 46th annual at Madison Square Garden, when James Francoshini, of Toronto, won the Danum-Woodbine challenge trophy for heavy harness horses with his black gelding, "Saxon Ideal," which was perfectly driven to beat out a selected field of six entries.

C.P.R. To Reopen Shops

Move Is Halted As An Indirect Boon To Business

Montreal, Que.—Main shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway in various Canadian cities will be reopened Tuesday, November 17, it was announced here Friday, November 15, by Grant Hall, vice-president of the company. The shops were closed in September as an economic measure.

Frank McKenna, chairman of the Federated Trade Committee of the Canadian Pacific, representative of the employees, said shops affected by the reopening order would include those at Montreal, Que., McAdam, N.B.; Carleton Place, Ont.; North Bay, Ont.; West Toronto, Ont.; Winnipeg, Manitoba; Calgary, Alberta; and Vancouver, involving a total of approximately 8,000 men.

Statement by the company and the trades committee did not indicate whether or not the shops would remain open permanently. In this city the move was hailed generally as an indirect boon to business.

Conditions in the railway world have long been regarded as an indication of the country's business position and the re-employment of 8,000 men throughout the country was taken as an indication that things generally were showing a marked improvement.

Planning Big Domestic Loan

Bonds Will Probably Be On Sale Very Shortly

Ottawa, Ont.—Good progress is being made in preparing plans for the domestic loan which will shortly be launched by the Dominion Government. While no official information has yet been given out, it will probably be a week before the sale of new bonds actually begins.

The rate of interest is said to have been fixed at five per cent, but further conferences will be held before the final price is reached as to what price the bonds will be offered to the public. The general impression is that the amount of the loan asked for will be $125,000,000. The money is to be used for meeting requirements of unemployment relief and for various other purposes.

May Be Clue To Theft

Five Thousand Dollars Found In Suitcase Bought For Fifty Cents

Toronto, Ont.—Possibility of a connection between theft of a large sum of money and discovery of $5,000 in bills in an old suitcase is being investigated by police. A youth here, out of work, purchased a second-hand suitcase for 50 cents. In it he found $5,000 in United States bills. Some time ago, a west end business man complained about $5,000 had been stolen from his home by a stranger whom he befriended. Police are working on the theory the thief concealed the bulk of the cash in the old suitcase for safe keeping.

Ask Rate Revision

Application To Imperial Shipping Committee For Lower Marine Rates To Churchill

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, has announced that the Canadian Government has made formal application to the Imperial Shipping Committee for a revision of marine insurance rates on the Hudson Bay route.

This committee announced the length of season and the rates last spring. The season was about six weeks in length and the rates considered high.

Since then a test movement of two shiploads of wheat has been carried out. Both ships made the trip to Churchill without delay or difficulty, and complete data on their voyages are in the hands of the Imperial Shipping Committee. Upon the strength of this test movement a downward revision of insurance rates is being sought. The committee will have months to work on this reference before the 1932 season opens.

British Cotton Mills Busy

Conflict Between China and Japan Results In Large Orders

Manchester, Eng.—Conflict between Japan and China in Manchuria has eased the plight of Lancashire textile workers. It has been the largest factor in providing 40,000 mill workers with jobs and in putting 500,000 others on full time instead of part time.

These benefits have resulted from the fact the Chinese boycott has virtually stopped importations of cotton into China from Japan. The upswing in the textile district has led the way for the rest of Great Britain. Unemployment has decreased steadily since early last month, largely because of the revival of cotton.

Reports are that cotton sales have jumped 100 per cent. At least 20 mills, some of which have been closed four years, are running again.

More Work In Britain

London, Eng.—British unemployed on Nov. 2 totalled 2,710,944, a decrease of 15,148 in a week, it is announced. A steady decrease has been shown every week since the beginning of October.

Seven Communists Have Been Sentenced To Terms Of Imprisonment

Menace Of Armaments

The Very Root Of War, Says Sir Robert Borden

Ottawa, Ont.—The menace of armaments is the very root of war, and by war mankind has been martyred, said Sir Robert Borden, Canada's wartime Prime Minister in a Remembrance Day message here. More than ever the menace of armaments oppressed the world today he asserted.

"Can we estimate humanity's irreparable loss in the sacrifice of the generation that went forth to conflict nearly two decades ago?" he questioned. "In how great measure are present-day dangers, destitution and distress due to the destruction and wastage of that conflict and of past wars?"

Sir Robert dealt with disarmament. He stated that the nations signatory to the League of Nations covenant gave therein their pledge that national armaments should be reduced to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the fulfillment of international obligations for common action.

"The actual work of the league began ten years ago," he said. "During at least seven years the ablest and most earnest minds have devoted their full energies and their most intensive effort to the fulfillment of this pledge. Substantial progress has been made, and, if world conditions permit, a disarmament conference of the world's nations will meet in February. It will be confronted with the almost insuperable task of committing each nation to substantial reduction of its armaments."

Foolish Economy

War Debt Blamed For World-Wide Depression

London, Eng.—High points touched by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, speaking at the first business session of the new House of Commons.

A system of "barry economy" in regard to war debts and reparations has brought about world-wide depression. "It is impossible to decree that without regard to circumstances certain blocks of gold shall be transferred from one nation to another without resulting in impoverishment of the nation which hands out the gold and ultimately of that which received it."

Premier Laval's visit to the United States should lead to an understanding between France and Germany. "In the full and final understanding, however, every nation involved must be a party to the agreement."

To Publish Church Paper

Presbyterian Church To Establish Publishing House In Toronto

Winnipeg, Man.—The Presbyterian Church of Canada will in the near future have its own publishing house where it will print two magazines, Sunday School papers and all its other publications. Establishment of a publishing house in Toronto was announced at the concluding session of the Manitoba synod of the church here.

The magazines will be "The Challenge," for senior church members, and the "Young Canada" for youths. Hitherto the church has obtained much of its Sunday School and other literature in the United States.

Offering Of Bonds To Canadian Public Will Be Made Soon

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion of Canada shortly will make an offering of bonds to the Canadian public, probably on November 23, according to the Prime Minister before he left Ottawa for a holiday in Europe.

"The name of the loan will be 'Dominion of Canada National Service Loan,' a statement issued by the Department of Finance declared. The campaign is now being organized by a general management committee, of which Sir Charles G. D. G. B. E., president of the Bank of Montreal, is chairman, and it will be nationwide, the Department of Finance today placing large orders with the king's printer for prospectus and application forms, the initial requirement for the former being for 1,500,000 copies.

This is the first announcement of the impending loan from official sources, although it has been forecast for some time. It has been rumored that the loan would be for $125,000,000 bearing interest at 5 per cent, but indications are that the exact amount to be asked for had not yet been definitely decided upon and $125,000,000 may be nearer the mark.

Toronto, Ont.—The law said the final word in the case of Rex vs. Tim Buck, et al, Friday, November 13. In finding them guilty of conspiracy to conduct a trial which had attracted world-wide interest by sentencing seven Communists to terms of five and two years, concurrent, on three charges, and another of a term of two years and one year, concurrent, on similar charges.

The men, all members of the Communist Party of Canada, had been tried and found guilty on charges of being members of an unlawful association acting as members of such an association, and with being parties to a seditious conspiracy. Similar charges had never before been entered against such an organization—the party, as well as its members, was on trial.

The court recommended seven of the eight be deported at the expiration of their sentences; and that all property in Ontario of the Communist Party in Canada revert to the crown. The lone man who would be permitted to remain in Canada is Malcolm L. Bruce, born here. The others were born in various other parts of the world, although all had lived in this country for many years. Under a section of the Immigration Act, however, they may lose their citizenship for seditious acts.

The eight men are Tim Buck, leader of the party in Canada; Tom Ewen, Matthew Ponovitch, Malcolm L. Bruce, Samuel Cohen, and Thomas Cagle. It was Cagle who received the two and one year sentence; all others will serve five years.

The trial opened November 2. The men had been arrested last August, when Dominion, provincial, and municipal police swooped down on their homes and offices and seized a mass of evidence. Much of this evidence tended to show the party had taught and advocated the use of force and violence to eventually bring about the overthrow of the government and existing social system.

Six witnesses at the trial was Sergeant John Leopold of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who as "Comrade E. W. Esselwein" had served seven years as secretary of the Regina branch of the Communist party and in that time collected evidence against the organization. During the trial, Leopold testified for a day and a half, outlining all the ramifications of the party which had been formed, he said, with $3,000 sent from Moscow.

Landslide Buries Five

Men Preparing To Stop Work When Accident Occurred

Pierreville, Que.—Five men lost their lives when buried under a landslide near here. They were employed on excavation work on the shores of the St. Francis River in Nicolet country.

The accident occurred as the men were preparing to quit work in the 25-foot-deep hole in which they were digging. The excavation was completely filled by the landslide. Bodies of the victims were recovered seven hours after the men were trapped.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

People attribute personal feelings to opinions or policies expressed by a newspaper. It is human to do so. Editorial comment is the privilege of a newspaper editor. Unquestionably it expresses opinions, which cannot meet with the approval of all the people, for it is out of the diversity of opinions, that thought on any subject of public interest is aroused.

Some on the impulse of hurried thought condemn a newspaper for its editorial opinion if it is at variance with theirs. Every newspaper, from the metropolitan daily to the smallest town weekly, is subject to this. The disapproval sometimes takes the form of open hostility, attempts at boycott, or the simplest of all methods, "cutting out the paper," this latter action being calculated to pull the props and leave the paper as flat as a collapsed pack of cards built up by the small boy.

But newspapers are usually as tenacious of life as the proverbial cat with its nine lives. They endeavor to consistently serve the public for meagre rewards, sprinkled with liberal doses of abuse, letters to the editor and other methods of castigation, which tend to thicken his hide and cause some to imagine he is a hard-boiled cuss who has no soul whatever.

The truth is, that editors conduct their papers to try and serve all classes of readers equally. Some days you may approve, other days you may condemn; but still the paper goes on. A paper run on impartial lines will not be subversive to any particular clique which has selfish interests uppermost, and The Journal will certainly uphold constituted authority against the attacks of those who would tear down not only the object of their enmity, but who would seize the power, were they capable, of sweeping aside those who opposed them. Threats made against men in this community are not to be lightly taken, and serve to show the treatment which would be meted out were such an element entrusted with power of any kind in public affairs. Tolerance is imposed on by those who have no sense of compromise. Intolerance is the most obnoxious and dangerous trait in human character.

There are many in this community who do not shout their opinions from the housetops or soap-boxes, and who do not have occasion to express opinions as forcibly as those who carry all their wares in the front window. Their strength will completely surprise those who are so vociferous in proclaiming what they will do and whom they are "going to get." That expression of strength will come through the ballot-box, the safeguard of Democracy, which was used with such overwhelming effect in Great Britain in the recent elections.

The sentence meted out to Communist leaders came as a result of a trial of ten days. It is a trial of importance in Canada. The crime of which a jury took three minutes to find the prisoners guilty is comparable to high treason against the State. Judged by twelve fellow men, the plea cannot be advanced they had not a fair trial. Skilled defence was employed in their behalf, their counsel used every effort to minimize the seriousness of the offence. Juries are men of conflicting emotions, but the speed with which they brought in a verdict of guilty on all counts shows there was little doubt in their opinions as to the guilt of the eight accused men. Nine were charged, one was released for lack of evidence. Canadian laws are not to be trifled with.

Looking over last year's issue of this date to find what we were talking and thinking of, it is noticed that in the issue of Nov. 13 crocuses were in bloom on Fred Stokes' ranch as late as Nov. 8, but a day or two later heavy snow and falling temperature made it difficult for the busses to maintain service. The weather since Saturday has been running true to form.

A reminder of the thrill Colemanites had when the first talkies were shown in the local theatre was an advertisement announcing the return of "Gold Diggers of Boardwalk." It was the first shown here to replace the silent films, and—boy—what packed houses there were to see it. Now people are looking for something new and novel to entertain them.

Canadian National Ships Observe Minute of Silence

Liners and freighter of the Canadian National Steamships enroute between Atlantic and Pacific Coast ports, to and from the West Indies, South America, Australia and elsewhere, observed the memorial minute on Armistice Day by silence, with passengers and crews standing at attention. In addition, poppies made by World War disabled veterans in Canada were sold aboard Canadian National ships and the proceeds from these sales will be dedicated to the work of making life more bearable for those incapacitated by the war.

Henriet Released on Bail Pending Appeal Against Sentence

Application having been made for the release on bail from Lethbridge jail of Frank Henriet, pending an appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta, his solicitor, S. G. Bannan, of Blairmore, went to the city and came back with him on Friday last. Bonds of $2,000 were furnished. The date of the appeal is not set, but will probably be in December, and will likely be heard in Calgary.

Cranbrook now has a daily newspaper, published by Elmer Hall. Kimberley has a new weekly, making two newspapers there. F. W. Slade is the editor. Doubtless there is keen rivalry in the newspaper field in those towns, but judging by the nice things each is saying of the other, they are carrying on far more amicably than the rivals in the old days of newspaper rivalry it would provoke a battle of explosives and the journalistic atmosphere was highly charged with static.

How Many Sales Transactions Do You Need?

An Advertisement addressed to our Local Retailers

It is possible for a retailer to calculate the number of sales transactions required by his business each day, week, month, year. Here's how the calculation can be made:

1. Sum up the estimated operating expenses for the year—the amounts required for rent, wages, delivery, supplies of various sorts, insurance, repairs, losses. Add, also, the net profit which one should have to reward his capital and enterprise.
2. Divide this total by the number working days in the year—say 305, in order to get the average daily cost of operating one's business.
3. Ascertain the amount of the average sales transactions. (The daily records of individual sales, over a period of a month or so, will enable one to make this calculation).
4. Reckon the amount of gross profit earned on an average sales transaction—20—25—30 per cent.
5. Divide the total average daily expenses by the profit on an average sales transaction.

Thus one gets the number of sales transactions required daily to recover the costs of doing business.

ILLUSTRATION

Suppose that you find that your annual expenses, including a desired net profit, total $4,000, or, say $13.11 per day; that your average sales transaction is 56c, on which the average gross profit, at 25 per cent would be 14 cents. Then your required number of sales transactions per day would be $13.11 divided by 14, or 94.

Now, to assure an average of 94 sales transactions per day, rain or shine, will require you to be extraordinarily diligent in the matter of attracting customers. Your windows should be made alluring. Your service should be courteous, prompt and pleasing, so as to make customers willing "repeaters." Your range of merchandise should be good, and your prices should be competitive.

But these alone won't suffice to assure 94 sales transactions every day, on an average. You'll have to do a whole lot of inviting. Week by week your invitations to buyers ought to be published in this newspaper.

If you fail to issue cordial invitations, week by week, then your business is in a state of peril.

N. B.

The accompanying illustrative example makes it clear that a retailer can check up his progress daily. Without a daily measuring of achievement against requirement no business management can be called safe.

Fernie Girl Becomes Bride of Lloyd Celli of Coleman

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the Holy Family church, Fernie, when Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Maffioli, of Fernie, was united in marriage to Mr. Lloyd Celli, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Celli, of Coleman. Rev. Father Finnigan officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked a picture of loveliness in a gown of white satin and lace fashioned on silhouette lines and ankle length, also a veil with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Denora, who was charmingly attired in a gown of coral Canton crepe, ornamented with rhinestones, and picture hat to match, and a hip-line white coat. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and fern. The groom was attended by Mr. Jerry Bortelusse.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Italian Hall, where over a hundred guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast. The hall was decorated with masses of flowers, foliage and colored streamers, hanging from the ceiling to the bride's table, which was centred with a four-tier cake surmounted by a silver vase of white heather.

The happy couple will spend the honeymoon at the coast, and upon their return will be guests of honor at a reception in Coleman. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents, and their friends wish them every success in their wedded life.

When you CAN'T QUIT

A HEADACHE is often the sign of fatigue. When temples throb it's time to rest. If you can't stop work, you can stop the pain. Aspirin will do it, every time. Take two or three tablets, a swallow of water, and carry on—in perfect comfort.

Don't work with nerves on edge or try all day to forget some nagging pain that Aspirin will end in a jiffy! Aspirin can do you no harm; just be sure that it is Aspirin with Bayer on each tablet.

In every package you'll find proven directions for headaches. Made in Canada.

colids and sore throat; neuralgia, neuritis, etc. Carry these tablets with you, and be prepared. To block a sudden cold on the street-car; quiet a grumbling tooth at the office; relieve a headache in the theater; spare you a sleepless night when nerves are "jumping."

And no modern girl needs "time out" for the time of month! Your little box of Aspirin tablets is sure relief for all such pain.

Take Aspirin for any ache or pain, and take enough to end it. It can't harm you. At drug stores everywhere. Made in Canada.

cushion and dozed, at the back of her mind the faintly disturbing thought that she was cutting a Roman senator's dance.

Presently she stirred a little, half-aware of some doze that was pushing itself into her consciousness. The discomfort grew, crystallising at last into the feeling that she was no longer alone. For a moment, physically unwilling to be disturbed, she tried to disregard it, but it persisted, and, as though to strengthen it, the recollection of the defrauded senator came back to her with increased insistence.

Broad awake at last, she opened her eyes. Someone—the senator presumably—was standing at the entrance to the little alcove, and she rushed into conscience-stricken speech.

"Oh, have I cut your dance? I'm so sorry."

She broke off abruptly, realising as she spoke that the intruder was not, after all, the senator come to claim his dance, but a stranger wearing a black mask and domino. She was sure she had not seen him before amongst the dancers in the "salle," and for a moment she stared at him bewildered and even a little frightened. Vague stories she had heard of a "hold-up" by masked men at some fancy-dance ball recalled themselves disagreeably to her memory, and her pulse quickened its beat perceptibly.

Then, quite suddenly, she knew who it was. It did not need even the evidence of that lock of "poudf" hair above the mask he wore, just visible in the dim light of the recess, to tell her. She knew. And with the knowledge came a sudden, disturbing sense of shy tumult.

She half-rose from the divan.

"You?" she stammered nervously. "Is it you?"

He whipped off his mask.

"Who else? Did this deceive you?"—dangling the strip of velvet from his finger, and regarding her with that quizzical grey eyes. "I've been hunting for you everywhere. I'd almost made up my mind that you had gone to bed like a good little girl. And then my patron saint—or was it his special devil took off to look after me, I wonder?—prompted me to look in here. 'Et vous, vous, mademoiselle!'"

"How are you feeling after your exploits in the snow?"

He spoke very rapidly, in a light, jesting tone that seemed to Jean to make the happenings of the afternoon unreal and remote. His eyes were very bright, almost defiant in their expression—holding a suggestion of recklessness, as though he were unembarrassed upon something of which his utmost self refused to prove but which he was nevertheless determined to carry through.

"So you did 'call to enquire,' after all?"

As she spoke, Jean's mouth curled up at the corners in an involuntary little smile of amused recollection.

"So I did call after all?" He looked puzzled—not unnaturally, since he had no clue to her thoughts. "What do you mean? I came!—he went on lightly—because I wanted the rest of the day which you promised to share with me. The proceedings were cut short rather abruptly this afternoon."

"But how did you get here?" she asked. "And—why did you do appear so suddenly after we got back to the hotel this afternoon?"

"I got here by the aid of a pair of excellent skis and the light of the moon; the snow ceased some hours ago, and the surface is hardening nicely. I disappeared because, as I told you, if you gave me this one day, it should bind you to nothing—not even to introducing me to your friends."

"I should have had to present you as 'Monsieur l'Inconnu,'" remarked Jean without thinking.

"Yes," he met her glance with smiling eyes, but he did not volunteer his name.

He had made no comment, uttered no word beyond the bald affirmative, yet somehow Jean felt as though she had committed an indiscretion and had snubbed her for it. The blood rushed into her cheeks, staining them scarlet.

"Peg your pardon," she said stammeringly.

Again that glint of ironical amusement in his eyes.

"For what, mademoiselle?"

She was conscious of a rising indignation at his attitude. She could not understand it; he seemed to have completely changed from the man of a few hours ago. Then he had proved himself so good a comrade, been so entirely careful in his thought and care of her, whereas now he appeared bent on wilfully misunderstanding her, putting her in a false position just for his own amusement.

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion—as they do, it is usually excess acid. It is an ailment. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acid. 50¢ a bottle—any drug store.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth-paste.

Testing Queer Theories

Scientists Take Big Chances When Making Some Investigations.

Scientists, in their own way, are nearly as intrepid as the more spectacular winners of Victoria Crosses, and it is not their fault that every line of research must involve the risk of death or mutilation.

When such a subject does present itself, however, the investigator seldom hesitates.

A case in point is that of Van Campen Hotel, a famous big game hunter, an authority on deepest fishes and a valued member of the American Museum of History. The curious subject he has chosen to investigate is: which sharks really attack human beings and their methods in offence and defence.

To get to grips with his inquiry he sailed some time ago to the Bahamas with the expressed intention of swimming in shark-infested waters, armed only with a dagger. With him went a cinema operator, whose job was to film the experiments from the vantage point of a glass-bottomed boat.

The result may be to prove that the viciously named "tiger" shark is really quite harmless to human beings, thus relieving the apprehension of swimming in tropical waters.

Two or three rather eccentric research inquiries come from the United States. One of them, carried out by an efficiency expert, resulted in the world-shaking conclusion that typists do their best work while seated at pink desks.

Just why Professor G. H. Vansell, of California University, weighed the breath of a hive of bees would be rather difficult to explain to a non-scientific audience. But he did it, and the world is now in possession of the information that the average hourly loss of weight by perspiration of the whole hive of bees is, in winter, 36 milligrams, and in summer, 25 milligrams.

Firm in London Makes Wonderfully Natural Artificial Eyes

There is in London, a firm which the making has been carried on by the same family for over 150 years. Artificial eyes made by this firm are so wonderful in their naturalness that even in a photograph no difference can be detected. It is possible even to make the pupil enlarge and contract. Business is done with Africa and with Eastern countries in the manufacture of eyes for idols. The eyes of a temple god must, of course, be of a very special kind. The fierce, war-like gods need piercing, flashing eyes whilst those of the gentler kind require eyes that are liquid pools of sympathy.

Pioneer Smelting Plants

Sweden Manufactured Iron and Steel During Middle Ages

That Sweden was a pioneer country with regard to iron and steel manufacture during the Middle Ages has now been proved by a medieval writ recently found, dated March 23, A.D. 1360, which mentions an iron furnace situated at Vikmanahyttan, in the Swedish province of Dalecarlia, where iron manufacture is still carried on. The document states that one-fourth of the Vikmanahyttan furnace belonged by right to one Olof Torstildson, whose existence as well as that of the other signatories, has been proved by genealogical research. Mining has, of course, been carried on in Sweden from the times immemorial, although the methods of earlier ages were rather primitive. This latest discovery proves satisfactorily that some 600 years ago the iron-masters of Dalecarlia had introduced the furnace method in the Swedish iron industry.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

YEAR'S ENDING

Now that the year turns towards its ending, Bloom-time and seed-time through. With gold and scarlet leaves descending, Let me drift, too.

Let me forget too much of longing, Too many plans and hopes, For bright are hosts of beauty thronging Autumnal slopes.

Behind I leave the city's clamor To dwindle to a sigh, As down strange paths of dream and glamour, The year goes by.

I would forget the care and travail, The haste of anxious ways, No tangled skeins would I unravel. In these calm days.

Gone now desires beyond attaining, Sweet, sweet, this joy life gives, This beauty, through the year is waning.

That throbs and lives!

Persian Balm appeals instantly to the dainty woman. Stimulating the skin, making it velvety soft in texture, it creates and preserves complexion of exquisite charm. Delicately fragrant. Cool and delicate to use. Especially recommended to soothe and dispel roughness or chafing. Stimulating imparting a youthful loveliness and protects and enhances the most delicately-textured skin. Persian Balm is the unrivaled toilet requisite.

Manitoba Gold Production

Five Times Greater This Year Than In Previous Year

Production of gold in Manitoba during the current year is estimated at five times greater than the amount produced in previous years, according to Hon. G. D. McKenzie, Manitoba Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines.

He said there was considerable prospecting for gold around the Pas, but not for the base metals. "Many interesting finds are being reported, and it is expected two more mines will be opened next spring," he added.

Old-Age Pensions

"A letter has been sent out to all the provinces to the effect that it is the opinion of the Federal Government that new agreements on old-age pensions must be negotiated with each province and the Department of Justice has been asked to draft a standard form of agreement," said Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor.

Remains To Be Seen

A mysterious envelope securely sealed in several places was given to the authorities of St. Mary's Hospital at Shipley, Yorkshire, England, to be opened and the contents sold in 1964.

The donor, Abraham Kendall, thinks that the undecoded contents will then have become valuable.

Heligoland Siding Into Sea

Complete disintegration of Heligoland seems inevitable in spite of every effort of German engineers to prevent it. Over 2,000 cubic meters of rock was hurled into the sea in a recent slide.

Heligoland, an island in the North Sea famous during the war, was obtained by the former German Imperial Government by trading Zanzibar in East Africa to Britain.

Little Helps For This Week

"Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love."—Romans xii. 10.

To bless mankind with tithes of flowing wealth.

With grace to grace them, or to crown with health.

Our little lot denies; yet liberal still, God gives its counterpoise to every ill;

Nor let us murmur at our stunted powers

When kindness, love, and concord may be ours.

The gift of misanthropy to others' ease, To all her sons impartial Heaven decrees;

The gentle offices of patient love, Beyond all flattery and all praise above;

The mild forbearance at a brother's fault, The angry word suppressed, the taunting thought.

—Hannah More.

Would we only endeavour to take God's view of those among whom we dwell, and among whom our daily intercourse lies, how gentle, how patient, how earnest in all good works and kind offices, how averse from everything that could give offence should we be.

—Andrew P. Peabody.

Saskatchewan Grain Acgre

Ten Year Period Shows Increase Of Over Four Million Acres

An increase of 4,078,187 acres shown to the principal crops for the Province of Saskatchewan in the 10-year period between 1921 and 1931 is shown in the preliminary statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This year's acreage was 21,748,039 against 17,669,852 10 years ago. The largest increase was in wheat, which rose from 11,684,292 to 14,775,047.

Acreage shown to oats declined from 4,860,292 to 4,368,735, a drop of slightly over 10 per cent.

RESTFUL SLEEP

for FRETFUL, FEVERISH CHILD

—With Castoria's regulation

"When your child tosses and cries out in his sleep, it means he is not comfortable. Very often the trouble is that poisonous waste matter is not being carried off as it should be. Bowels need help—mild, gentle help—but effective. Just the kind Castoria gives. Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for children's ailments. It contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. Don't let your child's rest—and your own—be interrupted. A prompt dose of Castoria will urge stubborn little bowels to act. Then relaxed comfort and restful sleep! Genuine Castoria always has the name!"

CHILDREN SAY FOR IT

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

BY MARGARET FEDLER

Author Of "The Splendid Valley," "The Hermit Of Far East," "Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London."

"You are wonderful—you English! If it had been I who had experienced your adventure today, I should be sick to my stomach. As to dancing the same evening—ma foi, non! Voyez, I shall leave you to rest a little."

She nodded smilingly and left the room. Once in the corridor outside, however, the smile vanished as though it had been wiped off her face by an unseen hand. Her curving lips settled into a hard, inflexible line, and the soft, dreaming dark eyes grew suddenly sombre and brooding.

She passed swiftly along to her own suite. It was empty. The little Count was downstairs, agreeably occupied in comparing symptoms with a fellow health crank he discovered.

With a quick sigh of relief at his absence she flung herself into a chair and lit a cigarette, smoking rapidly and exhaling the smoke in quick nervous jerks. The long, pliant fingers which held the cigarette were not quite steady.

"Tout va bien!" she muttered restlessly. "All goes well! Assurance, his punishment will come." She bent her head. "Que Dieu le veuille!" she whispered passionately.

Jean took a final and not altogether displeased survey of herself in the mirror before descending to the big "salle" where the fancy-dance hall was to be held. She had had her dinner served to her in her room so that she might rest the longer, and now, as there came waited for her ears the preliminary grunts and squeals and matches of melody of the hotel orchestra in process of tuning up, she was conscious of a pleasant glow of anticipation.

There was nothing strikingly original about the conception of her costume. It represented "Autumn," and had been designed for a fancy-dance ball for more than a year ago—before the death of Jacqueline had suddenly shattered down all gaiety and mirth at Biarritz. But, simple as it was, it had been carried out by an artist in colour, and the filmy diaphanous layers of brown and orange and scarlet, one over the other, showed with a girdle of autumn-tinted leaves.

Sorry To See Night Coming She Could Not Sleep

Mrs. K. McElroy, Kirkfield, Ont., writes—"I was very nervous and run down, was short of breath, and had another feeling, and was sorry to see night coming as I could not lie down or go to sleep."

The company which broadcasted from BLAB accused the editor of leaving his name from the list of artists. We must admit it. At the time of writing the paragraph, we puzzled our brains to remember who the other member of the company was, and not till we were reminded that our name did not appear, did we realize the error caused by absence of mind. No, dear reader, it was not due to static or other causes beyond our control. Just a slip of memory. J. L. Lonsbury's name was omitted from Coleman members attending the district meeting.
